With school trustee elections looming on the horizon it behooves us all to seriously consider the situation. To date I have heard of no candidates to the high school board who will run on the platform of the League on Government and Taxation—and there may not be.

On the other hand, as we go to press, signifying their intention to run, are two candidates who will represent progress coupled with sane economy. With one of them we are all very familiar, and I would personally like to see any one make charges of incompetence or extravagance against him, and make them stick. The man is J. E. Wiesendanger, well-known in the district at large and particularly in his own community as a chap who can always be found out in the front rank of any movement for the community's good, be it charitable or civic. He has served long and faithfully at the thankless task of school trustee, and it is unthinkable that the voters who have in the past loyally supported so loyal a servant would turn their backs upon him at this time. And I don't believe they will.

Mr. Wiesendanger's running mate is also well-known to all of you—Dr. Frank R. Anderson. Dr. Anderson can by no stretch of the imagination be dubbed "outsider." He has lived in this community for eight years; he has founded a home and family here. Graduating from the University of Nebraska in 1922 and that institution's medical school two years later, he started his work in the county, and he will probably remain here. He is vitally interested in the entire educational structure, both from the standpoint of a university man and from that of a father with two youngsters coming up.

Here is an opportunity to secure, gratis, the services of a man who not only realizes the value of education, but who is closely in touch with the community, knows its financial limitations, and is in complete accord with an economically progressive school system.

It seems to me these two candidates should appeal strongly to every voter in the community who has the welfare of the coming generation genuinely at heart. The time is coming when a young person, denied adequate education, will have no alternative but to twiddle his thumbs and eventually go mad as the proverbial hatter. Let's prepare for an intelligent future.

During the coming campaign will probably be the usual whispered and entirely unfounded fallacy that the local high school faculty is not doing a good job with the material which each year falls into its hands. Any one who believes such reports, regardless of the integrity of the reporter, certainly can lay no claim to have kept in touch with school affairs, and the students as they go on to bigger fields. A really large percentage of our local high school students go to Stanford, U. C., U. S. C., San Jose State, Davis, and elsewhere. At these institutions lack of preparation is not tolerated—but how often do you hear of a Campbell high school graduate failing to make the grade? I personally know of no Campbell student who, taking up University or College work in earnest, has had to be invited to leave.

Rather than verbally pull our schools to pieces I think that every last voter in the union district would do well to boost them for all he is worth. The evidence points that way.

Last Rites for Fred G. Hanger Held Here Saturday Morning

A large crowd gathered Saturday at the Campbell Methodist church to pay their last respects to Fred G. Hanger, 65, a familiar figure in the community for many years, who passed away at his home near here Wednesday evening after a brief illness.

The Rev. C. E. Irons conducted the services which were followed by interment in Los Gatos cemetery. Pall-bearers were D. H. Cramer, Ira Bogert, W. H. Stewart, E. E. Weeks, E. R. Kennedy and Haven Graves.

Mr. Hanger was a native of Indiana, and had lived in this county for 50 years. He had spent his later boyhood in the Santa Cruz mountains before moving to this locality. He was a faithful member of the local Methodist church, and will long be remembered as a cheerful little figure who was never too busy to pass the time of day with his friends. He is survived by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Rose Hanger of Campbell.

P.-T. A. HEARS DR. IANNE'S T. B. LECTURE

At a meeting of the grammar school P. T. A. Tuesday afternoon the speaker was Dr. Charles Ianne, of the county preventorium, who lectured on the prevention of tuberculosis. Employing a series of slides with which to illustrate his remarks, Dr. Iannes particularly stressed the advisability of early and frequent examination of children.

The brief business session, presided over by President Mrs. C. E. Williams, was marked by the selection of a nominating committee which includes Mrs. G. E. Farley, Mrs. S. N. Hedegard, and Mrs. G. E. Jeffers. Election of officers will be held at the April meeting.

Children of the fifth and sixth grades, directed by their teachers, Mrs. Plumb and Miss Merriman, entertained with a tumbling act, and these teachers and mothers of fifth and sixth grade children served refreshments at the conclusion of the program.

Campbell Girls Invited To Join New Flower Club

In the glory of the spring the strange ethereal music of Pied Piper's tunes lures us to the country; the mountains, the fields and to our gardens. This particular week Peter Pan is calling all grammar school girls who wish to join a flower club to meet on Friday at 4 o'clock at the Orchard City Garden shop.

Pan's chief assistant is Miss Ruth E. Townsend, and she is asking for two or three capable girls of high school age or older to help her in guiding the younger girls along the trails Pan leads. These older girls should arrange to see her by Friday noon.

Talk on Russia, Spanish Tunes, On Club Menu

The Community hall was filled Monday afternoon with members and guests of the Country Woman's club, assembled to hear S. F. Harby of the Montezuma school faculty in his talk, "Some Challenges from Soviet Russia," and to enjoy the musical program.

At the request of the program committee, Mrs. F. H. Cutting, Mrs. M. A. Ross, Mrs. F. V. Perrot and Mrs. E. C. Merrill the president, Mrs. H. C. Smith presided.

Mr. Harby, who has been on the faculty of Columbia university and the University of Washington, visited Russia at the opening of the "five year" plan, and has continued his studies of that country during the succeeding years.

He developed several interesting comparisons and contrasts between the political, social and economic plans and ideals promulgated by the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics, still commonly called by its old name of Russia, and those of our own country.

While in many respects the five year plan failed of the goals set, it so far succeeded that they have entered upon another five year period in which they plan to concentrate more on comforts and luxuries. Government planning was one of the points of comparison between the two countries which the speaker considered.

Mr. Harby is interested in travel as a business and has been in charge of travel tours. This summer he intends conducting a party of boys on a private sailing vessel to Alaska.

Miss Muriel Crothers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Crothers, who has a lovely soprano voice, which she is cultivating, arranged her work at state college to permit her being present and singing. She had chosen two numbers, "Nocturne" by Pearl Curran, and "In Italy." Mrs. Crothers was her accompanist.

For the closing feature of the program the club was indebted to Mrs. Perrot, who had secured Mrs. Sybil Maduro de Fidanques, a recent comer to San Jose.

Mrs. Fidanques is a native of Panama and wore the former native dress which is now used only for festivals and celebrations. She also wore a remarkable head dress of wired beads arranged on separate pins.

She sang Spanish songs of Panama, Cuba and Mexico, playing her accompaniments on an instrument called the "tiple." It is fashioned something like a guitar, but having ten strings. The one she used came from Bogota, Colombia.

Explaining in English their theme she sang a number of songs, among them, "Peanut Vendor" and "Mama's Cafe."

This delightful program was presented in a colorful setting of large bowls of daffodils and flowering quince.

During the business session the committee in charge of the meeting for Mar. 19, which will be "Men's Night," with a pot luck supper, divulged their menu and completed some arrangements. Any members not present will simplify the work of the committee by phoning them

LOCAL WOMEN ENJOY P.W.C. LUNCHEON

Mrs. C. H. Whitman, who is a member of the Santa Clara branch of the Pen Women, and Mesdames James Turner, Mazarova George and Harry C. Smith of Campbell, and Walter C. Magnuson of Union district, who were present as guests, attended the delightful luncheon program of that organization Saturday at the Sainte Claire hotel.

Ruth Comfort Mitchell (Mrs. Sanborn Young) was the principal speaker, and among other notables introduced was Bernice Berwin, who is "Hazel" in "One Man's Family," the popular "Barbour Family," of Radioland.

Old Settlers' Day Data Is Sought By C. C.

The Campbell chamber of commerce, in going over its records of past Old Settlers' days, finds that the history is not complete. The data on years 1898, 1899, 1900 1901 1902 and 1905 is missing.

Being desirous of bringing the records to date in complete form, the chamber is issuing a request for any valuable information concerning the celebrations of these years, and would greatly appreciate it if any such information was handed to either to Harry C. Smith, president, or to Dan Yeager, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

A delicious dinner, games, dancing and cards were enjoyed by the honor guest and Helen Robinson, Ruth Farman, Jeanette Wellington, Barbara Baird, Richard Mcrton, Hugh Cramer, Philip Farley, Horace Person and Ralph Hague of San Francisco.

MASONS CONDUCT FUNERAL SERVICE FOR STURDEVANT

Services were held Monday afternoon, March 5, at the Williams funeral parlor in San Jose for Wilbur D. (Dad) Sturdevant, 69, who died suddenly at his home on Johnson avenue Saturday morning. He had been in poor health for the past four years.

A Mason of long standing, Mr. Sturdevant's last rites were conducted by T. A. Robinson, acting master of Charity lodge. The Rev. J. H. Bennett represented the ministry, and the Blue lodge service was augmented by the Knights Templar escort. Interment took place in the Masonic Memorial plot at Oak Hill.

Born at Middlebury, Vt., Mr. Sturdevant came to California in 1891, settling in Lodi where he operated a store. From 1907 to 1911 he functioned as the state clerk at San Quentin. He then moved to Campbell where he operated the lumber yard, finally retiring in 1916, although he spent some time as road master of this district after that.

Surviving are his widow and three children, Mrs. June Sturdevant Mills, Campbell; Howard Sturdevant, Stockton, and Elwood Sturdevant, San Jose, and four grandchildren, Dorothy Mills, Elwood W. Sturdevant Jr., Frederick D. and Patricia Sturdevant.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary
Agricultural Council of California

If Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has read the "signs of the times" correctly, California agriculture, during 1934 will enjoy an increase in income of approximately $1,000 per farm.

The estimate is based on the prediction of Secretary Wallace that farm income, in the nation at large will jump two billion dollars over last year, with twenty million farmers sharing in the increase.

Although the average farmer, mindful of past experience, is likely to discount such predictions, pending cash-confirmation, there are fairly reliable indications of better days ahead. But whether the upswing will be as great as forecast is problematical.

Pointing to the come-back, California's income from field, orchard and truck crops for 1933 jumped to $41,000,000, lifting from $248,847,000 in 1932 to $289,395,000 for last year—the best record since 1929. Earnings of the livestock, dairying and poultry industries, not yet computed for all areas, will probably approximate $135,000,000 additional.

In contemplating the happy prospect of greater cash income, the farmer, however, will be forced to take into consideration the effect of the dollar devaluation program on his actual purchasing power. But even in this light, the outlook is distinctly hopeful for the devaluated dollar is just as good as the old dollar when it comes to paying off debts. And who has more debts than the farmer?

Still another hopeful sign for agriculture is the fact that fruit acreage has ceased to expand, with a decrease in production apparently in prospect for clingstone and freestone peaches, plums, olives, raisins and table grapes.

According to agricultural economists of the University of California, there is also promise that expansion of production has ended for apricots, prunes and almonds. Practically the only increases in production anticipated are in cherries, pears, walnuts, wine grapes and citrus fruits.

The survey just completed by the economists brings the warning, however, that the trend in grapefruit production is sharply upward, with further expansion also expected in the production of lemons.

California, along with the rest of the nation, should have learned by this time the disastrous results of overproduction and the California farmer, planning on new plantings, would do well to consider whether his program of expansion is justified.

Particular caution should be brought to bear on proposed additional plantings of wine grapes, where the trend, due to the repeal of prohibition, is for general expansion. Glutting the market with grapes at low prices might very well destroy the benefits which the

Election Of Trustees Set For March 30

On Friday, March 30, the annual election of trustees for both the Campbell Union high school and grammar school will be held at the various polling places in the community.

To date those entering the race for high school trustee include J. E. Wiesendanger, incumbent, and Dr. F. R. Anderson. Carl B. Field, whose term expires this year, will not again be a candidate, he says.

Information on grammar school possibilities is unavailable as we go to press.

Mrs. Marion Cox of San Jose was hostess to the staff of the Campbell Union high school "Reporter" Thursday at a business meeting. Members of the staff present were Virginia Hartley, Helen Dyer, Betty Grimm, Alice Johnston, Dorena Kiperash, Joan Dano, Arthur Hien-sen, Bob Burrows and Bob Lowrie.

A daughter, Valena, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Keizo Yoshida of Campbell, Wednesday, Feb. 28.

wine grape industry would otherwise reap.

With the federal government preparing to spend approximately $761,000,000 this year to induce farmers to plow-under crops and abstain from plantings, California farmers, who specialize in "luxury products," have more than ordinary reason to study production tables and the law of supply and demand before they plant.

More than anything else, agriculture, if it is to enjoy permanent recovery, needs intelligent, long-time planning.

Both the federal and state governments, as well as the University of California and numerous other agencies, are constantly at work on surveys to supply authentic data as a safeguard against unwise expansion.

And the farmer who rates as a consistent money-maker during the critical years just ahead will be the farmer who knows market and production conditions as well as he knows his own fields.

The era of gambling in the farm business—and getting away with it—has definitely ended.

LOCAL TEAM LOSES TO FRANKLIN

By Hal DeFraga

It was a game for the umpire Sunday at Franklin and Campbell took the short end of the 8-7 score. The game was close throughout and the lead changed hands many times. Campbell started off by scoring one run in the first inning when Battaglia and Tucker hit in succession. The local boys added another in the second when Clark got on on an error and scored on Silberbauer's two-bagger.

Franklin broke the ice in the second and tallied four runs to go into the lead. Two bad decisions by the base umpire helped things out considerably for Franklin in this inning.

Campbell added another in the third when Mitchell was walked, stole second and third and came home on an error. The locals came through with the tying run in the fourth when DeFraga got a free ticket to first, stole second, and on a bad throw by the catcher, came all the way home. The Campbellites broke into the lead for the second time in the fifth inning when they again scored once. In this frame Grey singled, stole second and came home on Carlos' bobble of Reed's fly to centerfield.

Franklin again took the lead in their half of the fifth when Schneider singled, Watson tripled, and Hamilton singled to score twice. The lead again changed hands in the sixth when Campbell tallied two runs. DeFraga led off with a free ticket, went to second on an infield-out and scored on Battaglia's single and Battaglia scoring on Grey's second hit of the game. This proved to be the end of Campbell's scoring for the day.

Franklin was held scoreless until their half of the eighth inning when the umpire allowed a man a home run on a two-base hit. The ball rolled through the right field fence and it seems (according to Franklin) that if the ball is hit over the fence it goes for two bases but seeing that it went between the pickets it was good for four. Personally, we do not quite follow their reasoning.

The Campbell team did not play as good a ball game as it is capable of playing. This was partly due to the fact that some of the boys could not be present on account of having to work, and as work comes before pleasure these days no one can blame them.

Next Sunday the fast Palo Alto Black Sox will invade the local diamond and Campbell will try to give them a good game.

SIMPLE LOGIC:

Electric Range + Electric Water Heater

+ new low electric rate = MONEY SAVED

1¢ per kilowatt hour! A new low electric rate for cooking and water heating on the lower block rate.

THE steadily increasing popularity of electric cooking proves one point beyond a doubt. If you try one of the modern, super-speedy electric ranges, the odds are very much against your ever going back to any other type of kitchen cooking device.

So great is the contrast between the automatic way in which the electric range carries out your cooking orders from the standing-by watching and hoping method of non-automatic stoves, your decision will be immediate. Cooking is better, easier, simpler with the modern electric range.

As a companion convenience to match the modern performance of the electric range you will want one of the highly efficient, automatic storage type electric water heaters. The combined price of these two kitchen companions you will find to be exceptionally low this year. Now isn't this the first thing to be done in the spring program of improving and modernizing your home?

Best of all by using the electric range and the electric water heater with a demand control switch you will enjoy the new low electric rate of one cent per kilowatt hour. Get the facts on this new deal for the kitchen. We know you will be enthusiastic.

It takes only about 3% of the family budget to give the services of an electric percolator, toaster, radio, refrigerator, lights, electric clock, washing machine, iron, vacuum cleaner and other lesser appliances. Electricity renders many services at little cost.

THE STORY OF CALIFORNIA SCHOOLS

By ROY W. CLOUD
State Executive Secretary California Teachers Association

THE JUNIOR COLLEGES AND HIGH SCHOOLS

As early as 1907 the California legislature recognized the need for provisions to care for high school graduates who were unable to attend the state university or a state normal school. Attendance at the state university was barred to many students who were not only deserving, but of high mental caliber. In many instances economic difficulties stood in the way of such students.

As a result, the legislature in 1907 authorized the establishment of post-graduate classes in high schools. In 1917, the legislature authorized the establishment of junior college courses in high schools. In 1921 the legislature enacted a law providing for the establishment of junior college districts.

The junior college course of study is about equal to the course of study for the first two years at the state university.

Thus the junior college student whose work is on a sufficiently high level can transfer at the end of two years to the state university or to a state teachers college, and complete the regular college course in two additional years. In this way the first two years of college education have been "brought to the people," and the opportunity for advanced education has been made available to thousands of young men and women who otherwise would find it impossible to continue their education beyond the high school level.

Many of these same young men and women transfer at the end of two years to the state university or other higher institutions.

However, the main purpose of the junior college is to provide a "terminal" school for the great majority of its students. Junior college education should include many phases of technical education too advanced for high school students.

The junior college is a special opportunity for many young men and women to get technical educational training for their life work. In the same way, it is a special opportunity for many young men and women to increase their fitness for useful, happy, wholesome lives.

In accordance with the best educational thought, the junior college is part of the state secondary school system rather than a part of "higher education."

There is now a total of 16 junior college districts with 35 junior colleges and an enrollment of 25,493, for 1931-32.

Completing the units of the secondary educational system of California—the junior high school, the high school, and the junior college

VOLLEY BALLERS WIN OVER P. A. HERE TUESDAY

At volleyball in the high school gymnasium last night a Campbell team composed of Neil Best, Frank Blaine, Carl Field, D. H. Cramer, Dr. W. R. Morgan, Bart Guttormsen and Ray Archibald decisively defeated a team from Palo Alto, winning five out of six games.

This was a return match, the local players taking the Palo Altans on their home ground two weeks ago.

The Rev. Joseph H. Bennett's topic for the 11 a. m. Sunday morning services will be: "Tying God's Hands." At 7:45 p. m. there will be an illustrated lecture on "Modern Japan."

Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan this week-end enjoyed a visit from her son John, who is practice-teaching in Salinas.

—the junior high school has as its primary aim bridging the gap between the old type elementary school and the highly departmentalized modern high school.

The first junior high school in the United States was established by F. F. Bunker at Berkeley in 1909. With the ending of the decade of 1930, 48 per cent of all California seventh and eighth grade pupils of the public schools were enrolled in junior high schools.

Junior high school enrollment is steadily on the upcurve, with a total enrollment for 1931-32, the last available official figures, 150,309.

KIWANIS NOTES

By Heck

Lieut. Gov. Charles Rosendale of Salinas was a guest at local Kiwanis meeting yesterday. The day being membership day four new members were received with very fitting instructions by Hank R. Stroebel, past-president of Salinas club, and Charlie's right bower. Jack Murdock, Warren Hyde, Herbert Shadle and Will Lloyd were greeted as new arrivals.

In a few remarks on the accomplishments of the local club, President Guy Farley destroyed the last signs of indebtedness on the Scout hall which has been the most outstanding project. The hall is to receive a new coat of paint within a short time.

Lieutenant Rosendale stated in his remarks that Kiwanis stresses more Christianity in daily living, giving primacy to the spiritual rather than material things, and looking more to the real worth of our neighbors. Kiwanis will play a part in the new deal, bring men closer in the bond of brotherhood of men.

Tuesday evening has been arranged as the time for the club's complimentary dinner to the two championship basketball teams of the local high school. Coach J. W. Bunn of Stanford is booked as the speaker of the hour, and a treat is in store for all attending.

FORD TO BUILD HUGE EXPOSITION AT THE 1934 CHICAGO WORLD'S FAIR

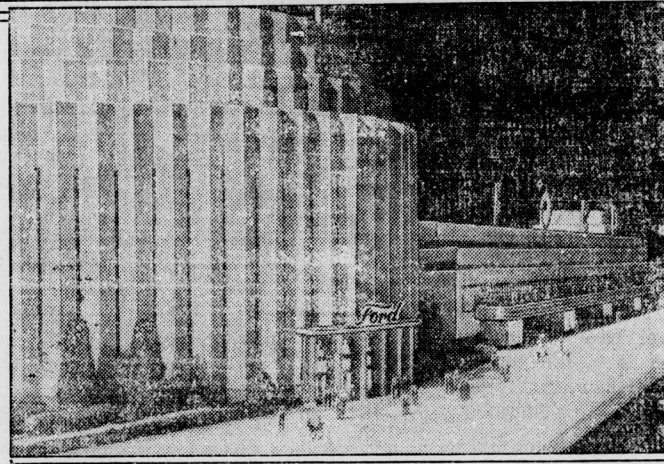

A GREAT Ford Exposition, portraying the tremendous part the arts, sciences and virtually every other industry plays in the manufacture of today's motor cars, is planned by the Ford Motor Company for the 1934 World's Fair.

The Ford Exposition will be housed in a giant building 860 feet long to be built in the heart of the fair grounds on an 11-acre plot bordering Lake Michigan and flanking the main fair boulevard. Construction of the building will start Mar. 1.

In the dominant central building will be housed Henry Ford's "Drama of Transportation," depicting the development of wheeled vehicles from the chariots of ancient Egyptian kings to modern motor cars. Every model of Ford car made since 1903 will be included.

In the smaller building to the left will be housed some of the priceless historic exhibits from the Edison Institute at Dearborn, Mich., including the one-story brick workshop, complete with the original tools, where Mr. Ford in 1893 built with his own hands his first motor car. This first car will be displayed inside the shop.

The main exposition building will

Henry Ford and Edsel B. Ford show to Rufus C. Dawes (center), president of the World's Fair, the scale model of the giant Ford Exposition building to be built at the 1934 Fair. (Lower) The Ford building as it will be seen from Leif Erikson drive. Opposite the building will be a huge park bordering Lake Michigan.

display an imposing array of exhibits, most of them in action, show how steel, aluminum and other metals, soy beans, corn, wool, cotton and other farm products and the products of myriad industries are converted into car parts. The building also will house displays of cars and a big movie theater. Along the east side will be an open-air balcony equipped with chairs and lounges where hundreds may relax.

Across the drive fronting the lake will be a big Ford Park, beautifully landscaped and also fitted with seats and other comforts for fair crowds.
